Concussions

Know your Concussion ABC's....Assess the situation, Be alert for signs and symptoms, Contact a health care professional

You can't see a concussion. Signs and symptoms can show up right away or hours or days later. It is important to watch for changes in your child, as well as worsening symptoms, or complaints of "just not feeling right". Most concussions occur without loss of consciousness. Children and teens are among those at greatest risk for a concussion. If your child reports one or more of the symptoms below, or if you notice them yourself, contact a health care professional.

Signs and Symptoms of a Concussion:

- Difficulty thinking clearly
- Difficulty concentrating or remembering
- Feeling more slowed down
- Feeling sluggish, hazy, foggy or groggy
- Headache
- Nausea or vomiting
- Balance problems or dizziness
- Fatigue
- Blurry or double vision
- Sensitivity to light or noise
- Does not "feel right"
- Irritable
- Sad
- Nervous
- Drowsy
- Sleeping more or less than usual

NLCS Student Safety

In case of fire, you have about one minute to escape. Plan ahead! Know two ways out of every room.

NLCS Wellness

Pay attention to portion sizes. Many food and drink items are big enough that they count as more than one portion. Try pairing sweets with non-sweets. For example, instead of offering two whole-grain cookies, pair one cookie with a few berries

Title I

Title I is in  with STEAM. Please come and join us for our first family STEAM night. February 21, 2019. Lots of cool stations for your kids to do and learn about science at the same time. Title I will be there so stop by our station. You just might take home a prize!

Academics

Parents, have your child trade 20 minutes of "screen time" for 20 minutes of reading time. How about math facts? Remember the "old way" of teaching math? A lot of that is based on students knowing their math facts. Does your child know his/her grade level facts?
